About Moxy Women:

Moxy Women™ is a comprehensive on-line magazine for women- Igniting the flame of passion within all women to Find, Keep, and Share their Moxy through inspiring stories, empowering events and worldwide community.

Women Taking Care of Business ® the parent corporation, was founded in 2003 and launched the website in September 2007. The inspiration for the website came to Founder- Jean Harper after the death of her beloved sister in April, 2005. Ms. Harper's sister died at an early age and had suffered for many years from low self-esteem resulting from her experiences as a victim of domestic violence. On the day of her death, Ms. Harper heard, without words, from her sister- "don't let this happen to you" and has been on a mission, since her death, to work for women to help them discover and keep their "Moxy".

The website features inspiring stories of Moxy Women and has recently organized the International Association of Moxy Women and hopes to unite women around the world to inspire and work for continued transformation of women's lives through shared enlightenment.
